

UCD Centre for the History of Medicine in Ireland and
The Edward Worth Library Present:
“The Sharing of Medical Ideas and Information
Among Early-Modern Practitioners”

Tuesday 2 August 2016, 2 p.m.-5.30 p. m.

Free Admission – Booking Essential

Venue: The Boardroom, Dr Steevens' Hospital, Dublin 8

Keynote Speaker: Professor Ole Peter Grell, MA, Ph.D., FRHS

Contact: Dr Ben Hazard, ben.hazard@ucd.ie

www.ucd.ie/history/chomi/

<http://www.edwardworthlibrary.ie/>

Project Meeting:
The Sharing of Medical Ideas and Information
Among Early Modern Practitioners

Programme

Tuesday 2 August 2016

1.00pm: Registration

1.45pm:
Official Opening

Panel 1

Chaired by:

Professor James Kelly MRIA

2.00pm:
Dr Jason Harris,
Centre for Neo-Latin Studies,
University College Cork
“The Latinity of Renaissance
Physicians”

2.30pm:
Dr Benjamin Hazard,
School of History,
University College Dublin
“Medical Recipes for Military
Chaplains in Spanish Flanders, 1587-
1660”

3.00pm: Coffee Break

Programme (continued)

Panel 2

Chaired by: Prof. James Kelly

3.30pm:
Dr Elizabethanne Boran,
Librarian,
The Edward Worth Library (1733)
“Buying and Selling Medical Books in Early Modern Ireland”

4.00pm: Keynote
Chaired by: Dr Catherine Cox,
Director, UCD Centre for the History of Medicine in Ireland

Professor Ole Peter Grell,
“The Importance of the Republic of Letters for the Exchange of Medical Knowledge and Ideas in the Early
Seventeenth Century: The Physician
Ole Worm (1588-1654) and his Correspondents”

5.00pm: Closing Remarks